Hi Robert,

Any news about the WinFixer campaigns, their strange behavior and how we could stop the bleeding of impressions caused by this problem?

Regards,

Jean-Nicolas

Don't think it is related to the Canada thing.

Do you get those same pops when you go to this URL:

<http://www.winfixer.com/pages/contact/index.php?old=mgw11&sitecom&=3&src=0>

Thanks,

Robert

Hi Robert,

I talked with the programmers and we don't limit the size of url. They tell me that anyway your url are shorter than others we use.

I thought it could be because we are in Canada? But setting a US proxy gives the same results.

Maybe they filter your IP to hide their behavior? Do you have any other idea?

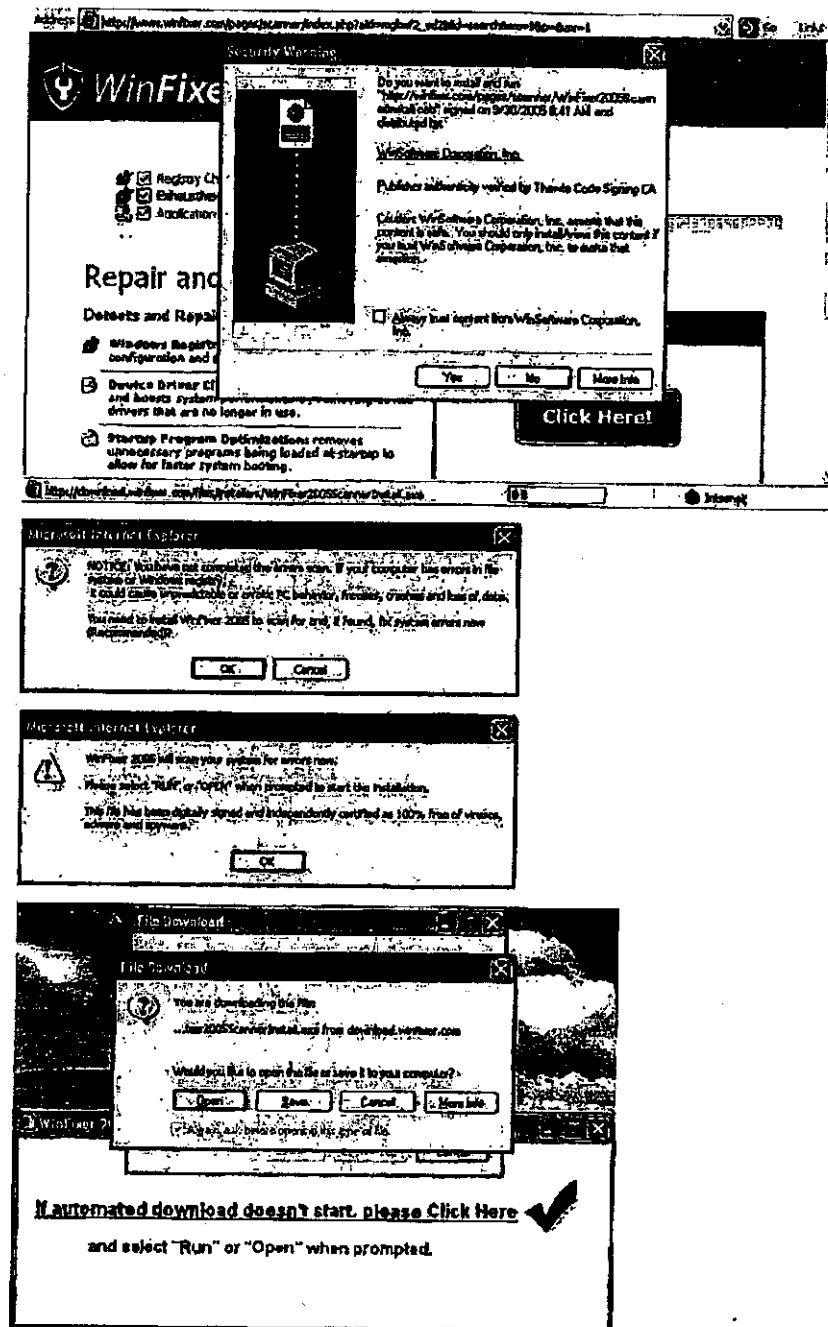

On our side, these url show this succession of windows and prompts:

ROSS000089

Ex KR G 14 p 1

12/18/2009

FTC 045560

p 2

This displays their standard ad - no multiple pops or ActiveX control downloads.

We had a similar problem with these ads with another partner. Some type of thing where we internally would always see the acceptable winfixer ad, but he would get the aggressive pops. The problem he was having was the URL was getting truncated (the conversion.cpvfeed.com url, this is the one you included below). Some kind of character limit he had in his desktop application. When those winfixer ad URLs get changed, it does start the aggressive pops. For example, take off the last part of the URL above:

<http://www.winfixer.com/pages/scanner/index.php?aid=9071&domain=&cr=3>

This link takes me to the same ad, but tries to do an ActiveX install.

Is there any possibility that your app has a hard character limit on URL strings?

Hi Robert,

We've started it again for 5 minutes and the problems were the same.

The vendors we had at the beginning of the week were:

89573

Vendor 90784 was the only one promoting WinFixer appropriately:

http://conversion.cpvfeed.com/results.jsp?

partnerid=110181&vendorid=90784&type=10&code=5132367&rate=664362&cr=664362&domain=www.winfixer.com&query=com&cr=90784

Right now vendors 89573 and 90012 are still doing the same thing and 90784 still popping one window only. 90729 was not seen in our 5 minutes test. The three bad ones are blocked again now.

Let me know if you have a quick solution for this so we could avoid a hole in the weekend revenues.

Thank you!

Jean-Nicolas

Jean-Nicolas,

We've gone through every Winfixer account currently in our system, and are not seeing the problem. So far as we know, the problem is resolved, and you can turn back on those ads.

We do monitor this on our end, and will continue to look for this problem. If it does reoccur, if you can send us the link used to display the ad, we can track it down and resolve it immediately.

Thanks,

Robert

Subject: Re: Keyword list

Hi Robert,

1. This morning we stopped all traffic going to domain winfixer.com because 95% of it's advertisement was a succession of at least five windows appearing after closing each previous one, including an ActiveX prompt and a .exe download prompt. This is a lot of traffic that is stopped. Can you could get those advertisers to display regular creatives or landing pages so we can start sending again those 200 thousand pops per day?
2. What are the rules for your advertisers? Our network only accepts one window pops, and doesn't accept ActiveXs or .exe prompts.
3. Thank you for the updated keywords list, we are working on ways to reduce its size in order to upload it faster to our clients.
4. Here is the form you requested with our EULA and Privacy policy.
You can download a toolbar which bundles SurfAcctwary with on Stotchbar.com (using IE).
5. The amendment to the contract was fixed back yesterday. Did you receive it and is everything ready to start with the new shares in October?

6. That's good news about the international traffic. Did it really open today? If so can you tell me what we need to add to the query string and what countries are accepted? We might also need another amendment to the contract if you open more than the original countries in the contract.

Jean-Nicolas
